

Let's Mend Our Fences:

Foundation of Sierra Madre's Democratic Processes

By SANCHO PANZA

Sierra Madre's democratic institutions are endangered. The NEWS learned exclusively this week that an insidious element, boring from within, was working to undermine the very foundations of our local government. A secret dossier was presented to members of the Council with a detailed analysis of the un-American activity that has been going on "virtually under our noses," one councilman admitted. It was pointed out that a curb must be put immediately on the forces which have forced their way into the underpinnings of our society in Sierra Madre and everywhere, but, now, particularly Sierra Madre.

The eye-opening report, which was kept apart in a manila folder, according to the NEWS' informant, went into details of the damage being done to the city's economy and the dangers that are present.

The effect of all of this is working a hardship on the already overburdened taxpayer, it was brought out.

The biggest nest of these infamous creatures is in the Canyon area where they work bravely in the open. They are, however, at work in the very center of the city's business district, although here they are more secretive, just as their operations at the local library, the seat of our culture, are secret.

Although no announcement was forthcoming from the Council immediately as to what steps would be taken to combat this open insult to our way of life, Henry Nuetzel checked the status of the city's Defense Council. He sadly recalled that a year ago only one citizen volunteered his services for the organization.

A citizen who inadvertently entered the back room, scene of the Council's Iron Curtain meeting, and heard enough to get an inkling of the gaudy report, suggested that J. Parnell Thomas be called for advice. It was pointed out that Thomas was out of circulation. He then suggested State Senator Jack B. Tenney, but here again it was pointed out J.T. was no longer head of that well-known committee.

Now Threatened

Besides, the councilmen demanded in chorus, what did they know about termites.

Besides, this dossier of the Safeway Termite Control Company said very distinctly that their men could do the job better. Only thing is, the cost: City Hall basement termites, $59; Library front stoop termites, $195, and—Canyon Bath House termites, a whopping $1122 because in its present state it is on the verge of actually walking away.

Anyway, there is still time to save the City Hall and the Library, but, like China, the Pool Bath House may be too far gone.

Whew! The cost of preserving the foundations of our American way of life!

Around the Square

It was so cold in the back room at City Hall last week that the Planning Commission had to hold its "briefing" Iron Curtain meeting out in the Council Chambers—in plain sight.

There, Commission Member Sallie Osgood let it be known that she was starting a personal and one-woman campaign to get trees called Liquid Ambars planted throughout town. Their leaves approximate maple tree leaves in shape, and in the fall they take on "back East" hues.

She's going to work first on Subdivider Harold Spears.

It sounded a little Welfare State-ish when Howell White quipped:

"The Council plans to make a park out of the city land that now has the Nursery School and the Youth Hut and will soon have a ball diamond. If the councilmen would expand the park to include the nearby cemetery, the city could boast of a program that carries citizens from the cradle to the grave."

Sierra Madre has a lot of interesting background—it was really a lively town back in the "good old days."

And there's a lot of interesting reading about it all in the Historical Society's Annals to be published this Spring. But you better get your order in now—all copies will be sold by pre-publication subscription. You'll get your money's worth—and more.

And don't forget that V.F.W. dance coming up on February 25. It means a ball diamond for the city.

The news columns had a story about kids shooting out the street lights. We presume it was done at night, but what we wonder is how the kids can SEE 'em in the dark.

Shortage of Funds Slows New Nursery

Old Man Weather and the shortage of funds have slowed down the completion of the Nursery School building. Not being able to complete the building by January 31st has been a great disappointment to the Nursery School Fathers who have worked every possible weekend.

The millwork is in, the ducts for the heating system will be installed soon, as well as applying the exterior finish, grading and cleaning the outdoor play area.

The amount contributed to the fund-raising drive has covered expenses to date. After a check-up of remaining expenses, however, at least $1500 is needed. Part of this amount is due in pledges. However, any further contribution from citizens of Sierra Madre will be gratefully received. J. C. Loomis Jr. said this week.

The Ways and Means Committee, under Mrs. Alexander Black, has planned several money-raising events for the next few months.

Committee Seeks Funds To Retain Visiting Nurses

Reinstatement of the Visiting Nurse's Association to Sierra Madre became a strong probability this week as a committee was formed to sponsor funds for the service.

The committee was born at the Co-ordinating Council's monthly Board meeting, held Monday. Chairman of the Visiting Nurse Committee is R. C. Lewis, president of the local chapter of American Red Cross and president of the Bank of Sierra Madre.

Serving with him will be Carl Hansen, Felix Gibian, Mrs. May de Wright, and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger.

The group hopes to solicit enough money from public-spirited citizens to guarantee payment to the Visiting Nurse for patients unable to pay all or part of the required fee.

Amount needed, based on past experience, has been estimated at between $500 and $600.

"This is an emergency measure to get back the services of the Visiting Nurse as soon as possible," Chairman Lewis said. (The service had been discontinued last year for lack of a sponsoring body.)

"The money we receive will tide us over during the ensuing year—until November, when it is hoped that the Youth Fund Drive will embody it into some form of a community drive which will include payment of

State Recreation Official To Address Group Here

Arvid O. Pauly, recreation specialist for the State Recreation Commission, will address members and guests of the Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club next Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the City Park House.

Mr. Pauly, who has had 18 years' experience as an instructor and administrator in the fields of recreation and physical education, will speak on the subject, "Recreation for All the People."

Former president of the California Recreation Executives' Association, Mr. Pauly in 1948 was appointed Recreation Specialist to serve the Southern California area.

Mrs. Alice Sedgman, president of the Friendship Club, said this week that several Sierra Madre recreation leaders will attend Monday's meeting, including Al Morgan, chairman of the city Recreation Commission; Samuel E. McEl-

Baby Ahead In Death Race

With sirens screaming city policemen staged a dramatic race against death last Thursday afternoon—and it may have paid off.

On Tuesday, 18-month-old Susan Prosser, stricken with cerebrospinal meningitis, was considered "holding her own" by officials of the County General Hospital.

Officer Daniel Rauscher and Special Officer Ralph Tweddell drove the infant to the hospital in Los Angeles in near record time. They report the unconscious child was at the hospital, receiving blood plasma and oxygen, within 18 to 20 minutes after they left the local Police Station.

Consisting of the baby's mother, Mrs. Fred J. Prosser, 750 Alta Vista Drive, and Father Harley G. Smith, the grim party left the City Hall at 4:42 p.m.—and the child was under treatment at 5 o'clock.

Attending physician is Dr. R. Woodworth.

the Visiting Nurse," he said. Committeemen working on the guarantee fund ask that donations from Sierra Madreans interested in this project be turned in at the Bank of Sierra Madre.

"The money we receive will tide us over during the ensuing year—until November, when it is hoped that the Youth Fund Drive will embody it into some form of a community drive which will include payment of

CITY SEEKING COUNTY AID IN RECREATION

Negotiations for a contract under which the county will contribute funds for Sierra Madre's recreation program were begun this week by City Council Board members.

On the basis of a program under which the city recreation commission will spend about $2600 of city and school district funds, the county will contribute a maximum of $840 for the present fiscal year.

Last year the county contributed $480 to the joint recreation program for the last half of the 1948-49 fiscal year.

Taking part in discussions at the Hall of Records County Manager Wayne R. Allen and Administrative Assistant Robert Howard were City Councilman William A. Kinney, School Trustee Howell White, School Superintendent Charles Skutt, and Recreation Commission Chairman Al E. Morgan.

Community Concerts Present Miss Bernette

of tone, impeccable technique and a lovely presence on the platform."

No Novice in the concert pianist's field, Miss Bernette had accumulated 10 years' experience in Latin America before first coming to the United States in 1942.

Her next appearance in this country occurred in 1946, following her return to Brazil to become married. On all these visits and throughout this tour, Miss Bernette has established a rapidly-growing group of admirers among lovers of music.

Mr. Jackson said another Community Concert will be presented on Feb. 13 at the Monrovia Arcadia-Duarte High School Auditorium. On that evening, the Mata and Hari comedy dance team will be presented.

Miss Yara Bernette, Brazilian pianist, will present the second Community Concert this evening at 8:15 in the City School Auditorium.

Don Jackson, Sierra Madre Community Concert Association president, said a capacity audience is expected for the performance, including local Association members and concert-goers from neighboring cities.

Miss Bernette, who has been featured artist before New York Town Hall and Carnegie Hall audiences, currently is conducting a recital tour of the United States and Canada.

Her keyboard ability is summed up in a statement published recently by a music critic of the New York Herald Tribune: "A beautiful quality

Speaker Tells Of Colorado River Crisis

"The Colorado River Problem" was the subject of a talk presented at last Thursday's meeting of the Sierra Madre Lions Club, held at the Women's Clubhouse.

Speaker of the evening was Frank Towby, assistant controller for the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, and prominent speaker on behalf of the Colorado River Association.

Mr. Towby told the Lions and guests that all Southern Californians should become aware of the critical water condition facing residents of the lower half of California.

He urged citizens to write their friends and relatives in the east and ask them to communicate with their respective Congressmen concerning this problem.

"The Colorado River dispute between California and Arizona should be decided by the United States Supreme Court," Mr. Towby stated.

In addition to hearing Mr. Towby, the Lions viewed two color and sound motion pictures: "Facing Your Danger" and "California and the Colorado River."

Planning Commission:

Fathers' Cemetery Gets OK

A cemetery for the Passionist Fathers of Mater Dolorosa Retreat on North Lima avenue was authorized this week by the Planning Commission.

The burial ground will be located 100 feet north of the present chapel and will provide for approximately 50 graves.

Madre Boulevard.

Mrs. Margaret Davidson of 319 Ramona avenue, who sought permission to build a small cottage on the rear of her lot "for two elderly persons in need of a home," was told that an application for a variance would have to be filed.

The Commission also approved a petition of Robert W. Densmore of Altadena to subdivide two lots into eight on Rancho Road south of Sierra leaves of a subdivision submitted by John C. Hanson.

He has proposed the development of 24 lots on North Michillinda avenue with a new street going east and then south to a deadend.

Fred Rick of 315 W. Montecito asked the Commission for a variance or rezone to R-2 of a single lot immediately west of the library on West Sierra Madre boulevard. He was told that a formal application would have to be filed with the Commission. Public hearings are required on any such change.

Supervisors OK Purchase Of Hastings Ranch Land

An 18-hole public golf course which will serve the Sierra Madre-East Pasadena area should be completed and in operation by 1952, County Manager Wayne R. Allen announced this week.

The Board of Supervisors has authorized the purchase of an additional 20 acres north of Sierra Madre boulevard and east of Sierra Madre Villa avenue to complete the golf course tract.

Elaborate plans for development of a huge area, extending northward to the mountains and southward along the Eaton Canyon wash to San Pasqual street in San Marino, as a county regional park are still being pushed.

This park area, which would be similar to the county regional park at Arcadia, would include tennis courts, picnic grounds, a swimming pool, softball fields and other recreation features.

Its full development, aside from the golf course is one of long range planning, Allen said.

Vandal Cuts Car Wiring

Eddy O'Brien complains that someone slashed all the wiring under his car's dashboard one evening last week when it was parked in the Safeway parking lot.

Mr. O'Brien, who is employed at Club 60, could offer no motive for the vandalism.

Police say the locked automobile was entered by poking a bent wire through the window, and hooking the door handle.

All the wiring in the driver's compartment was cut, except the headlight wires. Mr. O'Brien said nothing was stolen from his auto.

NEW OUTDOOR THEATER IS PLANNED

Site work is beginning this week for construction of a new outdoor theater in Hastings Ranch Village in the area north of Foothill boulevard, and west of the bluff now zoned for extensive commercial development.

The improvement will represent a $350,000 development and will cover an 11-acre site.

Officials of the Hastings Ranch Village and Robert H. Hoese, head of the theater group which negotiated a long-term lease, disclosed plans for the project.

Bigelow Says He'll Resign As Planner

Bayard Bigelow, chairman of the City Planning Commission, this week announced that he would resign following the Commission's next regular meeting, February 23.

He has been a member of the Commission for three years and for the past year has been chairman.

Bigelow said that he was unable, because of health and business commitments, to give as much time to planning work as he would like.

It was understood that the City Council has asked Bigelow to accept appointment to the Library Board. A vacancy on the board has existed since the resignation of Margaret Miller last November.

The position was offered to Bigelow because of his engineering experience, the Council feeling that this experience would be of value to the board in its $40,000 library building program which is now in the planning stage.

ALA ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Bertha Irvine and Mrs. Effie Milton were American Legion Auxiliary hostesses at the Irvine home Thursday evening. Plans were made for a 6:30 pot luck dinner to be held Thursday evening, February 9th at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Galkin, 110 E. Mira Monte Ave.

MONDAY, FEB. 6, is Children's Dental Health Day, but Christopher Hogan, 4, of Los Angeles, says if you observe dental health habits every day, you won't wind up with store teeth like the ones she is displaying.

Monday Dedicated to Child's Dental Health

Monday, Feb. 6, has been designated the second annual National Children's Dental Health Day, it was announced this week by Sierra Madre dentists.

On this day, public attention will be focused on the prevention through education of dental disease. In the interest of the health of children, this program is sponsored annually with an educational plan conducted in co-operation with schools, parent-teacher, Chamber of Commerce, service club, church, government, civic, and allied professional organizations.

LETTER DESCRIBES TRAVELS IN HONOLULU, AUSTRALIA

(Editor's note: This is the second and last installment of a letter to Mrs. Clifford C. Ward of the NEWS from Mrs. Catherine Elliott of Sierra Madre, currently in Australia. Mrs. Elliott's letter describes her observations in both Australia and Honolulu.)

We stopped longer in Auckland, New Zealand, so that I was able to take two trips about the city. On the wharf, as I stood at the rail of the ship watching the warping-in process, was a crowd of well-dressed people, all watching for some familiar face to appear at the rail. I tried to decide the difference between them and any group I'd seen at Honolulu or Los Angeles, and decided that there was an air of rural living about them. There was no gaiety in the crowd, either.

Some of the young girls were very pretty, and that is the case with most of the girls I've met or seen here in Australia, but there was no sparkle, no spirit of good time about them. Their clothes were of very good materials, most of the wahines wore suits (costumes, as is said in the land of the British) and there were some fine furs, for it was at the end of winter "down under," but the styles were those we were used to in the nineties. Ever since I landed in Australia I've read in the papers and heard over the radio (wireless, down under) that Australian women are the best dressed women in the world.

I've been wondering where these women are, for although I may be prejudiced, I haven't as yet seen them. The hats, especially, seemed very strange to me, they were so bonnet-shaped, some of them even having ties under the chin. I haven't been on the mainland at home for about seventeen months, now, but I haven't seen hats like that. And when Dorothy stepped off the plane in Honolulu last summer she wore a most exciting little hat, with nothing of the bonnet about it, so I was surprised at the hats.

The city itself, reminded me a little of San Francisco both in geography and in climate. It is built on hills, and the harbor, the red-roofed houses with their tiny yards, all snugly fenced in, as are the typical British yards here, the gay flowers, all looked like a colorful old-fashioned quilt as I viewed it from the windows of a tea kiosk on top of one of those hills. The flowers seemed strangely mixed as to those of the temperate and of the tropical climates. For there were rows of hibiscus, and we have sad evidence that they don't stand a severe climate, for Dorothy told me that our hedge at home which Bob has taken such extraordinary care of was all killed by last winter's freeze. Then there was many plants of the bird of paradise, and rows of palm trees, but there were also rhododendrons, geraniums and oleanders. So I am still rather wondering as to the climate of that part of New Zealand.

The Tasman Sea did not live up to its reputation of being always rough and stormy, although the ship did do some rolling as we approached The Heads. It was a three day trip from Auckland, and we were out of the ship by eleven o'clock on Monday morning after a long session with immigration authorities, on board, with ship's officers seeing that all our papers were in order. Sydney was just emerging from the throes of a strike by the coal miners the week we came in, so business was not yet going on as usual, but we were able to get our luggage off and in the hands of other customs men after a very long wait. There are no seats provided in the sheds, and as I had no idea where to go to wait, I sat on the hand luggage I had had in my state-room, while waiting for the rest to come down from the ship.

When we first stepped off the ship there were no workers on the wharf, for it was the time for morning tea, then at a little after twelve, they all left for lunch. Again at about three o'clock they went off again for afternoon tea, and still I sat waiting for the last piece of baggage to come down. But at last the great net spilled the final piece out, and with the help of a taxi-truck man I was on my way to the Hotel Australia to which I had been recommended by a young Australian woman I met in Honolulu before I left.

MAN HALED INTO COURT FOR CAR HE DOESN'T OWN

No runs, six hits, and one error was the boxscore total of traffic court last Saturday morning.

City Judge John C. Mead read off the names of six offenders, all of whom forfeited their respective bails by not being present in court.

The "error" of the day was Harold Williams, 155 Chestnut street, Pasadena. Mr. Williams was summoned into court to answer for not having proper registration for his car and for illegal parking. He explained, however, that he sold his automobile last October to a Lar-

The policemen drove Mrs. Smith to her physician, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, where she was treated for abrasions of the face and forehead.

Woman Slips Over Curbing

Routine police work was suddenly thrust aside Friday morning when cries for help were heard right outside the door of the Police Station.

Officers H. S. Embree and James C. Heasley ran quickly to the aid of Mrs. J. O. Smith, 609 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, who slipped and fell while stepping over the curb on Windsor Lane. She was found lying partially beneath Police Car 92.

The policemen drove Mrs. Smith to her physician, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, where she was treated for abrasions of the face and forehead.

SCOUTERS DISCUSS PATROL TRAINING

Patrol work within the Boy Scout troop was analyzed at Monday's session of the Basic Scouters' Course, conducted at the Youth Hut.

Also considered during the evening were the various phases of First Aid training and practice received in Scout work.

The course, which is conducted by a simulated Boy Scout Troop, will continue for one additional week, according to Richard Lees, Sierra Madre District Committee publicity chairman.

Because of the keen interest shown in studying patrol work, leaders of the course decided to continue that subject over from the class two weeks ago.

Next Monday, Feb. 6, the class will consider "The Boy Through All Phases of Scouting."

Guest of honor at Monday's meeting was William Kinney, former District Chairman and currently a City Councilman.

Mr. Lees said the course will be completed with an overnight camping trip at Camp Huntington, Altadena, some time in March or April. Persons having taken the Basic Scouters' Course and attending this camp will receive certificates, Mr. Lees indicated.

Missionary Society Will Meet Feb. 7

Missionary Society members of the Bethany Church will meet Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 10:30 a. m. in the Church, it was announced this week. Several prominent speakers are scheduled.

At 11 a. m., Mrs. Rueben Larson will address the group on the "Voice of the Andes." Her presentation will be followed by a covered dish luncheon at noon.

A devotional message will be led by Mrs. Charlotte Nida, wife of Bethany Church Pastor Rev. Clarence Nida.

At 2 p. m., Missionary Society members and guests will hear Mrs. Winifred H. Ruble, national youth prayer chairman. Mrs. Ruble is sponsored by the Christian Business and Professional Women's League of America.

'We're Off to Good Start,' Reports Building Inspector

Building activity in Sierra Madre for 1950 got off to a good start last month, according to Building Inspector William Lees.

Mr. Lees said $114,700 in building permits were issued by his office during the month of January—an increase of $4414 over the previous month.

January a year ago saw $64,226 in permits filed at the City Hall office.

Building permits for more than $500 were issued to: E. Eugene Lunsford to build a house and garage at 600 N. Michillinda, estimated cost, $14,000; Harold Roberts, to add an office room at Roberts Market, 2 E. Sierra Madre boulevard, $1000.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raphael, to build a dwelling at 171 West Grandview, $22,000; Charles E. Louk, to erect a dwelling at 409 Manzanita avenue, $7700; C. Alcott, to build a garage at 50 W. Carter avenue, $1000; Myron Smith, to add two rooms at 220 N. Sunnyside avenue, $2000;

J. Nichols, to alter his dwelling at 20 W. Montecito, $1000; A. Pinelli who will alter the garage and home at 485 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, $1000; Mrs. Porterfield, who will re-roof her dwelling at 300 Churhill Road, $500; Harold Spears, to erect a dwelling and garage at 420 E. Grandview, $800;

Mrs. A. V. Pickering, who will add a two-car garage at 165 W. Carter Ave., $1500; H. G. Petz and G. E. Osborne were issued four building permits:

To build dwellings at 154 S. Lima street, estimated cost, $8500; 164 S. Lima, $8500; 174 S. Lima, $8000; and 184 S. Lima, $8000.

F. G. Scalzo received building permits to construct three buildings at 181, 183, 185, and 187 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. Estimated cost: $17,000. Willard J. Young filed for a permit for $5000 to add a house at 342 Camillo Road.

Merchandise Stolen From Unlocked Car

Citizens this week were again cautioned not to leave their car doors unlocked by Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan.

This latest warning was issued as police received a report of a daring, but petty property theft involving an unlocked car.

The crime occurred in the business district of Sierra Madre during one of the busiest times of day—between 2:50 and 3:50 p.m.

N. B. Clark, 187 N. Mountain Trail, reports that a small bag of oranges and a bag of chocolate drops were stolen while he was shopping. His car was parked in front of 47 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Mr. Clark estimated the value of his loss at 75 cents.

Youthful Preachers At Nazarene

Tonight at 7:30, Carlos Stepp will preach at the local Nazarene Church as part of the Youth Week Revival.

Every evening this week Nazarene young people have been given an opportunity to talk. Speakers thus far this week have been: Harold Beezon, Everett Osborne, Ben Klaffke and C. W. Bass.

Friday night the congregation will attend a Zone Rally at El Monte. Mrs. Orian Burllison will conclude the week's program, Sunday night, Feb. 5.

Civic Chorus Calls For More Voices

Director Stewart Matter of the Community Chorus emphasized, at the regular Monday rehearsal this week, the urgent and immediate need of more singers.

More alto voices are the first need, but all other voice parts, he said, should be generously augmented in order to do justice to the "fine and impressive program of sacred music" to be performed on Good Friday evening, for the general public, at the Congregational Church.

Members present at the rehearsals were requested to urge friends and acquaintances who are already members, but not attending rehearsals regularly, and any others known to them who enjoy singing, to attend next Monday's and subsequent weekly rehearsals at the school auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The Chorus and soloists will present the dramatic and beautiful music of Theodore Dubois for the Last Seven Words of Christ, together with two impressive sacred compositions each, by Dean Bode and Jedney Davis, both of Sierra Madre.

R. W. Lees, Sierra Madre District Committeeman, said six as yet unnamed city Scouts—one from each Scouting unit or troop—will make the trip, at an estimated cost of $300 per boy.

The local representatives will travel by special train, leaving approximately June 21 and will make a tour of the nation enroute to and from the National Jamboree site.

Sightseeing stops will include Seattle, Glacier National Park, Chicago, Dearborn, Niagara Falls, West Point, New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Atlanta, New Orleans, San Antonio, El Paso, and the Carlsbad Caverns.

Mr. Lees indicated that contributions from citizens to help send these boys on their trip would be "greatly appreciated" by everyone concerned with scouting. Donations may be addressed to specific troops or to the local District Committee for distribution.

you get twice as much economy when they're both electric!

Electric ranges and water heaters are current-misers. They guard against waste of electricity. But that's not the only saving you get.

When you cook electrically, you do away with cooking failures, and you get less shrinkage—so you save on food. Your cleaning costs are lower, too—because electric heat is so clean.

With an electric water heater, too, you get additional money savings. A lower cost for installation because an electric water heater can be installed anywhere—and a lower replacement cost, because electric water heaters last longer.

For better results with less work, let accurate electric controls do your watching for you. They never forget. Electric ranges and water heaters are completely automatic—and they're both as safe and dependable as electric lights.

Scouts Seek Money For Jamboree

The various Boy Scout troops and senior Scout units of Sierra Madre are making plans these days on how to raise enough money to send local Scouts to the Second National Jamboree of Boy Scouts of America, to be held June 29 to July 6 at Valley Forge Park, Pennsylvania.

R. W. Lees, Sierra Madre District Committeeman, said six as yet unnamed city Scouts—one from each Scouting unit or troop—will make the trip, at an estimated cost of $300 per boy.

In observance of National Boy Scout Week, the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club will pay special tribute to members of the world-wide organization when the Club meets next Tuesday, Feb. 7.

R. W. Lees, public relations chairman of the local District Scout Committee, said a Scout from each Sierra Madre unit will attend the luncheon meeting which begins at 12:10 in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Skipper B. Robinson and Commissioner R. G. Barrett will be present and probably will give brief talks on the Scouting program in Sierra Madre, Mr. Lees said.

Woman Tells of War Experiences

A former nurse in a Chinese mission and Jap prisoner of war, Mrs. Francina Gaylord of Claremont was guest speaker last week during a Conservo meeting at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bush of 633 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Mrs. Gaylord told of her three years' internment in a Japanese prison camp in China, and of her experiences prior to that as nurse and teacher in a Chinese mission. The speaker also showed some of her treasured oriental jewelry which was saved for her by Chinese friends while she was imprisoned.

Mrs. Gaylord recently became the wife of Mrs. Bush's father, Dr. R. Gaylord of Claremont.

Hostesses at the evening affair were: Mesdames Ed Beutler, Alan Thompson and Kenneth Carlson.

Mrs. Richards said that most of her belongings have been already shipped to Arabia, including her piano. She pointed out that in Arabia pianos are quite rare.

She and her daughter hope to visit relatives and friends in New York for a week before actually leaving for Arabia. The Richards' plan to return to this country on vacation during the summer of 1952—a year and a half from now.

During their absence, the Richards' home at 56 Suffolk will be occupied by Mrs. Richards' sister, Mrs. Katherine Valentine.

Local Magician, Now in Chicago, Lauds City Float

Sierra Madre's role in the Tournament of Roses Parade was praised last week in a letter received by Mel Stine from Ralph Pierce, local magician currently engaged in Chicago. Mr. Pierce stated that he was very proud on New Year's Day when, on a 30-minute NBC broadcast of the Parade, Sierra Madre's float was given a longer-than-average, two-minute description.

"The name of our town was mentioned five times over the air . . . it was wonderful," Mr. Pierce enthused.

The magician has been boosting Sierra Madre so much while in Chicago that he feels "Al Morgan should at least make me an assistant on the Chamber of Commerce."

A member of the Sierra Madre Lions Club, Mr. Pierce says he is doing approximately four matinees and night shows each week in Chicago, and is booked up through May 28. He indicated that he would perform in Iowa next season.

"STRENGTHEN LIBERTY"

OFFICIAL POSTER MARKING 40th BIRTHDAY

The 40th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will be observed Feb. 6 to 12 in every part of the nation by more than 2,300,000 boys and adult leaders. "Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme. The Boy Scouts' "Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" will continue through 1950. Representing the 12 Scout Districts, 12 outstanding Boy Scouts will make a "Report to the Nation" at Washington, D. C.

Government Warns Veterans to Spend Dividends Wisely

The wise veteran will not spend his insurance dividend recklessly.

This was an expression of the U. S. Treasury Department this week as thousands of GI's began receiving their share of the National Service Life Insurance refund.

A recent poll by a veterans' publication indicates that most ex-soldiers will exercise good judgment in spending the unexpected national windfall. Of the veterans surveyed, 30.4 per cent intend to spend a large portion of the dividend on homes. Twenty-five per cent will invest in savings.

The Treasury Department's appeal to "Use It Wisely—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds" has found whole-hearted support among leaders of veterans' organizations, it was pointed out.

Patient at San Gabriel Valley Hospital

The many friends of W. R. Humphries, now residing on North Euclid in Pasadena will regret to know that he is seriously ill in the San Gabriel Valley Hospital. He was taken there January 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphries built and lived for many years in the lovely home across from the Wisteria Vine on Carter Ave. Mr. Humphries has made a hobby of newspaper first editions and is nationally known for his collection.

Editor's note: When Mr. and Mrs. Ward bought the Sierra Madre NEWS, Mr. Humphries was among the first to call and present a framed copy of the First Edition of Sierra Madre's Newspaper.

COUNTY PLANS

land is now owned by Pasadena and the County Flood Control District. A portion of the property owned by the Hastings Land interests was acquired previously.

The golf course land has cost approximately $100,000. Estimates of development for a golf course have ranged from $70,000 to $120,000.

It was believed that a call for bids would be made for development and operation of the area. The golf course itself then would be operated by a concessionaire just as the county's Alondra Park golf course is now operated.

If adequate bids are not received, the county may contract for partial land development and then again call for bids to complete and operate the project.

In any event, Allen said that the course should be in operation by 1952.

Interesting Note Dept: Among the 4000 displaced persons that are now in California, the Governor's committee on DP's says, there is one whose nationality is listed as American.

Another of the 4000, no doubt suffering from delusions of grandeur, listed his occupation as "Employer."

From the self-described DP occupations the committee shows that we have absorbed into our economy one each of the following: Author, Bank Director, Button Maker, Circus Performer (horse), Corset Maker, Disinfecter, Drawing Master, Handyman, Junk Dealer and Zoo Keeper. There was also one "Manager" and one "Director."

In any event, Allen said that the course should be in operation by 1952.

Pointers Offered In Filing For Income Tax

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of several articles on the general subject of filing Federal Income Tax Returns, intended to help Sierra Madre NEWS readers in the preparation of their returns. The articles will appear each week, and the entire series will answer most of the basic questions having to do with this important task. The information contained in these articles has been prepared by Robert A. Riddell, acting collector of Internal Revenue for the Sixth District of California.)

The period for filing Federal income tax returns opened on January 3; and returns are now due from all individuals who are required to make them. The filing period continues until March 15, after which date all filings will be delinquent, and penalties will attach.

Every individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States, who had a gross income in the sum of $600.00 or more during the year 1949, must file a return. Age of the individual has nothing to do with his filing liability. The fact that a person is under the age of 20 does not exempt him from filing a return. The individual whose gross income is less than $600.00 is not required to file a return; but if that income is from salary or wages from which withholdings have been taken by an employer, it will be to the advantage of the person to file a return, which will serve as a claim for refund of the taxes collected through the withholding plan, which are not due because of the size of the income.

Gross income, in general, is defined as all wealth, in money or money's worth, received by an individual, with the exception of return to capital, and income expressly exempt from taxation by law. Capital is for example, the amount paid for property which produces income: a rental property, stocks, or bonds; when such property is disposed of, the capital is returned to the owner; and its return does not constitute gross income. The subject of income expressly exempt from tax by law will be discussed in a later article.

Gross income, then, includes any type of compensation for personal services; gross profits of a business or profession; rental income; dividends; interest; and income from many other sources.

There are three types of returns which may be used by the taxpayer in reporting his income; but only two forms on which to make them. They are:

Form 1040-A.

Form 1040, used in short form.

Form 1040, used in long form. Form 1040-A is the Employee's Optional Return. It can be used only if gross income is less than $5,000 and if income consists entirely of wages reported on Withholding Statements issued by employers. Not to exceed $100 of the total income may have been derived from wages not subject to withholding, or from dividends or interest. If total salary is more than $5,000, or if more than $100 is derived from any source other than withholding wages, Form 1040-A cannot be used.

In determining to use this form, the taxpayer should consider whether or not he is entitled to deduct travel away from home as an item in arriving at adjusted gross income, and whether or not he has non-business deductions, such as contributions, medical expenses, interest and taxes paid, which total more than 2% of his adjusted gross income.

In using Form 1040-A, the taxpayer does not compute his tax; he leaves this to the Collector of Internal Revenue. If tax is due, the Collector sends a bill; if a refund is due, a refund check is authorized by the collector, and mailed to the taxpayer.

Husband and wife may combine their salaries on a joint Form 1040-A if their combined income consists solely of wages, dividends and interest, if not more than $100 of the $5000 has not been subject to withholding. But, because of Community Property law in California, husband and wife are not permitted to file separate returns on Form 1040-A; their return must be joint. It should be noted that, if husband and wife together have income of more than $500, there is no way in which they may report on Form 1040-A. Some spouses are under the misapprehension that each may file on his or her own income, and use this form; but such filing is improper. They must file on Form 1040.

Boy Scouts To Be Feted Feb. 6-12

National Boy Scout Week will be observed locally and nationally next week, from Monday, Feb. 6, through Sunday, Feb. 12. The week's ceremonies will mark the 40th birthday of Boy Scouting in the United States.

On the actual birthdate, Feb. 8, all members of Scout organizations will have an opportunity to recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or promise at 8:15 p. m., in the four time zones. Theme of the 1950 birthday observance is "Strengthen Liberty."

A "good turn" by an unidentified British Boy Scout in 1909 to an American businessman who had lost his way in a London fog led to the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America in Washington, D. C., 40 years ago next Wednesday.

The late William D. Boyce, Chicago publisher, was so impressed with the helpfulness of the British Boy Scout, who declined a tip for the "good turn," that he accompanied the Scout to the office of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, learned about the program and brought a trunkful of pamphlets to America. Later, he incorporated the organization.

From very modest beginnings, the Boy Scouts of America has grown in four decades until now it has an active enrollment of more than 2,300,000 boys and adult leaders.

Since 1910, more than 16,500,000 American boys and men have subscribed to the Scout Oath and Law.

Build Permit Issued For Scalzo Store

Building Inspector William Lees last Friday issued a building permit for F. G. Scalzo's block of four stores, to be built at 181, 183, 185, and 187 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Cost of the new stores was estimated at $17,000, according to Mr. Lees.

Mr. Scalzo said construction of the stores will begin within the next two weeks, "Just as soon as the ground can be cleared." He indicated that it would take approximately 90 days to complete the structure, once started.

Only definite tenant so far for the buildings, Mr. Scalzo said, is his son, Joe Scalzo of Scalzo's Pet Supply Store.

New Laundry Now Opening In Arcadia

Service to the general public starts this week in Arcadia's new $175,000 laundry plant, according to an announcement today by George Dudley, Arcadian and owner of the new plant.

The Model Laundry and Linen Service has been in "test flight" operation for over 30 days but confining itself to linen service operations only.

Laundry and dry cleaning service began for the general public Monday, Jan. 30, with the opening of the call office at the new plant at 122 N. Santa Anita Drive. No pick-up or delivery service has been announced.

The new plant will, when in full operation, employ 80 people from Sierra Madre, Arcadia and nearby towns, and will be one of Arcadia's largest industries. Equipped throughout with the latest laundry machinery, the new plant is said to be one of the finest in Southern California.

George A. Dudley, owner of the plant, resides on Fallen Leaf Road and was formerly the operator of the National Linen Supply of Los Angeles for 28 years.

Charles Casey, long associated with Mr. Dudley, is the plant superintendent.

The linen supply service of the Model organization, headed by Jack Hubert, will render linen supply service to markets, cafes, barber and beauty shops, dentists, physicians and other professions through the entire San Gabriel Valley.

JENKINS COMPLETES OKINAWA RICE FILM

William E. Jenkins, 105 S. Lima, now surveyor for two years with the Engineers at the United States base on Okinawa, has finished during his spare time a motion picture in color of the whole process of rice growing in that far Pacific island.

This most important record of the chief food production and its personnel in the beautiful and little-known island shows the preparation of the ground under water, the primitive but very efficient apparatus by which the water is conducted from inland springs among ferns and rocks, the transplanting under water, the harvest, and fat, smiling little Charlie, an Okinawa infant who is the pet and mascot of the film, with his full rice bowl, the symbol of plenty.

The 16-mm. reels, aggregating 1200 feet, were recently shown, with the help of Rudy Hartman's projector, to a group of Bill Jenkins' friends and relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Parker at 31 E. Highland. When the film has been edited and dubbed with sound it will be available commercially and for the library of educational films of the California and other states' school systems, as a valuable historical, social and entertaining close-up of life and labor in that unique island whose distinctive people say, "We are not Japanese; we are Okinawans."

Written in an easy-to-understand style, the summary presents first what the minor child should know regarding city, county, and state laws, and then outlines advice to parents concerning the same regulations.

Included in the booklet, entitled "Parent and Child," are explanations of liquor, curfew, education, marriage, firearms, and motor vehicle ordinances, as related to young people.

SERVICES FRIDAY FOR J. D. CULVER

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow, Feb. 3, at Grant Chapel for Joe Dow Culver, 130 E. Suffolk, who died suddenly Monday night.

A resident of Sierra Madre off and on for the past seven years, Mr. Culver had lived in California for 34 years. He was a native of Lovelaceville, Kentucky.

Mr. Culver is survived by his wife, Aline T. Culver, and three sisters: Blanche Culver of San Diego, Mrs. J. E. Freeland of Booneville, Arkansas, and Mrs. T. J. Smith of Oklahoma City. The Rev. Carl Smith conducted the last rites, and interment followed at San Gabriel Cemetery.

The event marked the beginning of National Boy Scout Week as celebrated locally and nationally, and give the Scouts and leaders an opportunity to show their appreciation for the church's sponsorship.

A pot-luck dinner was served.

The Rev. Carl Smith announced that Sunday, Feb. 12, will be observed as Boy Scout Sunday, with both troops being presented at the 11 a.m. worship service.

February 6th will be of interest to travelogue fans when Stan Midgley brings his colored films and 'in person' narrates his observations. The films will be shown at MAD High School at 8:20 p.m.

The evening films will include Grand Teton National Park, Yellowstone National Park, and the 1950 Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade, all in color.

Boys and girls of the Pasadena Junior Museum, 46 N. Los Robles, are invited to attend the special afternoon programs at the Museum, each Wednesday from 4 to 5 p.m.

Next Wednesday, Feb. 8, Museum youngsters will hear about how motion pictures are made and will view the 30-minute film, "Ghost Towns," which describes the Motherlode saga.

"California Indians" will be the subject of the Feb. 15 program, featuring a talk by Mr. Walker, research assistant of the Southwest Museum. Arrowheads and broken Indian pottery prizes are promised for all.

On March 1, a motion picture showing the background of the California Centennial will be shown. Children will complete the afternoon with a gallery tour.

Labor, Management
U. C. Course Planned

To meet the San Gabriel Valley area's needs in regard to labor and management relations, the University of California Extension has planned a Spring course in "Labor and Management in Pasadena."

Demand has recently been shown for adequate background instruction in the field of industrial relations in the area, according to the Institute of Industrial Relations at UCLA, which will sponsor the study.

Instructor for the course, which will meet on Mondays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. for 18 weeks beginning Feb. 6 in Room 237C of Pasadena City College, will be Paul Bullock, graduate research assistant for the university's institute.

TRACK CONDUCTS CHARITY RACES

The five Santa Anita racing days of this week, from Tuesday through Saturday, are being run for charity, with all profits above actual operating expenses being turned over to the Santa Anita Foundation for distribution to worthy organizations.

Sharing in the funds will be the Community Chests of many Southern California cities; the American Red Cross; the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; American Cancer Society; Federation of Jewish Welfare Organizations of Los Angeles; and the Roman Catholic Archbishop Charities of Los Angeles.

Feature race of Charity Week is the 13th running of the $50,000 added Santa Susana Stakes, drawing many of the top 3-year-old fillies.

New Music Chief Named for Muir

Earl Narramore of Fullerton Junior College has been named director of choral music at John Muir College, succeeding Miss Isobel Smith, who is taking an extended leave of absence. Dr. Archie M. Turrell, Muir principal, announced that the new appointment becomes effective Feb. 6.

Mr. Narramore comes to Muir following three years with the Fullerton City School system, during which time he is credited as having developed some of the outstanding choral groups of Southern California.

Formerly the director of choral music at Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School, Mr. Narramore is also well-known as choir director for three churches—First Presbyterian Church in Santa Ana, Monrovia Baptist Church, and the Long Beach Emmanuel Baptist Church.

PASADENA OFFERS BUSINESS CLASSES

Distributive Education opens its Spring Institute in the Pasadena Junior College School District the second week in February with 35 courses of professional training free to the business people of the district.

The courses will include advertising, administration, law, speech, public relations, insurance, real estate, investments, buying, selling, promotion, and similar subjects having to do with successful selling behavior.

Classes start Monday, Feb. 6, with enrollment accepted through Feb. 20, as facilities allow. The hours are 7 to 9:30 p. m.; the place, Pasadena City College.

FIRE FLAMES

And when Bobby Clarke took charge of the fire drill last Friday, the boys had work to do. Bobby saw that they did it.

Along Suffolk Avenue, an imaginary fire was extinguished long before it ever got a good start. It was so cold that evening that Mercer Duff froze in his tracks and when he was asked to take the hose, he was unable to lift his frozen feet, so he said.

Drills for fire fighters are all important. If there were more fires, experience would be a wonderful teacher. As we are opposed to fires, we must practice with imaginary conflagrations.

We would much prefer to drill than to fight fire. To fight a real fire is real fun—but when the thoughts of someone's valuables being destroyed enters, the fun ceases. Let's drill and drill.

A rousing meeting was held at the fire house after the drill. It was so rousing that the Chief lowered the boom on several occasions. The boom meant fines for those who insisted on getting out of order. All fines are dropped into the "Cuss Can" and in return, the Cuss Can drops the fines into a Fund that provides good time party money. If the fines continue to grow, it will not be very long before the fire department will call a deal. LOOK OUT!

We can't help admiring our "Quarters" since the transformation. The new furniture has added so much that the place is hardly recognizable. Much credit for the cleanliness of late must go to Bill Newberry, who has taken an interest and looks after the cleaning job. Bill has volunteered and when he demands help from his cohorts, they jump.

The lovely green grass that is now beautifying the countryside and the vacant lots makes us safer at this time. Sorry to say that later when these vernal fields become brown dynamite, we have something to worry about. It is the duty of owners of vacant lots to see that weeds and high grass are removed or kept green after the rains have stopped. Bear this in mind and it will aid in keeping our fire loss down, down, down.

The great desire of the Fire Department is to keep our fire losses down. To do this, we must have the help of every property owner.

How monotonous can a "Fire Flame" be?

The Party following the regular meeting was well attended and the usual result. A trip for night snack was in order. It also was well attended.

Those proposing to build barbecue and incinerators should permit us to offer suggestions. There is an ordinance that provides requirements. It will be a great pleasure to assist in any way to prevent friction later.

All chimneys and flues must be properly screened. There's no allowance for open flame. Prevention of sparks is in order and will prevent unwanted fires.

Let's all get together and keep the FIRES OUT.

City Water Bills Compared; Sierra Madre Rates Low

Compared with many other cities throughout the United States, the cost of water in Sierra Madre is low.

In the January issue of the national publication, "Waterworks Engineering," a breakdown of annual water bills for 14 principal cities was presented.

Most expensive bill was noted in San Francisco, where 30,000 gallons of water (4000 cubic feet) cost $18.54; next was Buffalo, the same amount costing $13.20. Chicago boasted the lowest city water bill on the list with $2.40 for the 4000 cubic feet.

City Councilman Herman Barter said Sierra Madre would fall second from the lowest on the list. Edged in between Chicago and Milwaukee ($5.70), the Sierra Madre citizens pay $4.70 for 30,000 gallons of water (4000 cubic feet).

The same relationship exists for the next higher volume of water—45,000 gallons or 6000 cubic feet. Milwaukee pays $7.05; and Chicago pays $3.60. Councilman Barter said that amount of water in Sierra Madre costs $6.50.

Police Say Youths Admit City Damage

Partial cure to the city "street light problem" was reported this week by the Police Department.

Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan reported that three youths were arrested and admitted shooting out quite a few of the city lights—35 dollars worth.

The local boys—two 12 and one 15 years of age—were quoted as saying the lights were destroyed with BB guns and rocks.

Local policemen and Robert Green, Sierra Madre manager of the Southern California Edison Company, had been investigating the street light-breaking "prank" for two weeks.
